Are You Ready?

Many people in Ft. Meyers were not ready for Hurricane Ian. They may have been ready for a typical hurricane, but Ian was not typical. All of Florida is now paying much higher home insurance because of the magnitude of Ian.

Are you ready for drastic change? Life in 2023 is drastically different than in 1953. In 1953 phones had cords and you paid by the second for long distance calls. Car windows rolled up and down using crank handles and cars were not air conditioned. Are you ready for 2030, 2040 and 2050?

As you read this, major corporations and

Expanding Diversity WITH Morality

Gwinnett County has been a national poster child for expanding diversity. In 1990 Gwinnett County was 90 percent white. Now it's 36 percent white, 28 percent black, 23 percent Hispanic and 13 percent Asian. You can get restaurant meals from all over the planet. You can shop at a wide variety of ethnic stores. You can buy fruits from around the world. You can go to churches, mosques, synagogues and temples — all of which oppose murder, rape and the sexual abuse of children. In our wide and wonderful diversity we do not want rioting and looting. Everyone in our wide diversity wants to live in a peaceful neighborhood with kind neighbors who respect each other. This mutual respect enhances prosperity.

Moral Failure

Diversity in its most raw definition would include people who commit crimes. It would include people with strongly un-American philosophies like Communism with totalitarian dictatorship and surveillance. It would include pedophiles who want laws permitting sex with children. It would include drug dealers more concerned about making stacks of cash than they are about making armies of addicts. It would include people who get a thrill out of very loud cars with no respect for anyone else. It would include people who think nothing of throwing trash out of their car. It would include people who use vulgarity like punctuation. That's not what we want.

When Diversity Crushes Morality

The diversity being promoted today centers on the LGBTQIA+ community. Diversity is sold as the acceptance of such lifestyles to the point of inclusion in public education. This is an assault on the moral values of many Gwinnett citizens who go to churches, mosques, synagogues and temples. Such lifestyles have been considered immoral for centuries. To insist that every person in Gwinnett County accept these lifestyles, and even accept such lifestyles being taught as good in public schools, is to reject the diversity of all those who consider such behavior immoral. Were Gwinnett County, the State of Georgia or any higher level of government to demand acceptance of LGBTQIA+ they, in effect, demand the rejection of God. They violate the American right to freedom of religion.

Gwinnett County Demographics

Diversity with Morality

You do not see Target or Kohl's selling toddler shirts saying "God made me a boy." Somehow that would be seen as a violation of diversity standards — yet more people would want to buy that shirt than one that says "I don't know what I am yet." Wouldn't it foster love and kindness more just to let children be children? Let them learn about sexual morality from their parents. If an adult wished to wear a rainbow striped shirt and proclaim their sexuality to others of like orientation let them be answerable to God for their choice.

Fake Diversity

One area where diversity is greatly lacking is in media and entertainment. These industries seem to be captured by advocates of "fake diversity." Fake diversity loves to use the word, while denouncing a silent majority. They want award shows to congratulate advocates of LGBTQIA+ while denouncing opposition as white supremacist terrorists. To exclude the majority of Americans from your concept of "diversity" is EXCLUSIVITY.

Diversity Tyranny

When LGBTQIA+ advocates are given the opportunity to score major corporations on their fake diversity, you get LGBTQIA+ marketing executives, scriptwriters and professors. Anyone from a church, mosque, synagogue or temple need not apply. The result is declining sales, and declining stock prices, EXACTLY BECAUSE fake diversity is EXCLUSION. Exclusion of your customer base is not wise. It is tyranny trying to shove something down other's throats.

True Diversity

True diversity is where people can be of any color, from anywhere in the world, with all kinds of different tastes and they can trust their schools to teach the values the children's parents want taught. School Choice is ideal for this purpose. Families love the fact they can choose from an INCREDIBLE selection of restaurants. True diversity would give them more choice in education.

An American Psalm

God give us back America
the one we know and love
The one where rights and purpose come from heaven above

The Pilgrims made a promise
Our Declaration too
That we would be a nation
That gives its heart to You

It's clear our word's been broken
Your will just gets ignored
We slaughter babies every day
And plan to slaughter more

The wars that we have started are such a giant shame
We foment all the killing
And don't accept the blame

Our freedoms are collapsing
Our justice is a joke
Our moral fiber's flushed away
Our hope's gone up in smoke

Our children are in danger
In schools and their homes
They feed on all the garbage
That fills their wicked phones

Greed and pride consume us
Lust seems everywhere
Truth is called an enemy
Oh, do we even care

Our shame is overwhelming
Our actions a disgrace
We know we don't deserve it
We call upon your grace

Raise up some mighty warriors with words of truth and light
Send them into battle
Help them do what's right

The wicked are the weaklings
When we rely on You
Your words are like a flaming sword
Your wisdom is what's true

The giants with their clay feet
Will soon come crashing down
Like Pharaoh's mighty army
They're just about to drown

We see salvation coming
Your covenant YOU keep
May your glory light the world
Wake those still left asleep

Take the seven mountains
From them let all see light
Let righteous leaders filled with love
Model what is right

Are You Ready?

tiny garage startups are preparing to make 2030 very different than 2023. Global leaders fly to Davos, Switzerland to plan your future. For many of you it will be the end. They want depopulation. They see a world coming where artificial intelligence takes away many current jobs and leaves hordes of what they refer to as a "useless class."

Are you prepared to be considered "useless?" Are you prepared to be seen as a drag on the world's resources and climate threat because you drive a car and heat your house? Are you prepared to be housed in a minimalist unit and be fed minimalist food? Are you prepared to be gently drugged into extinction?

Look at the community you live in. How many people living there are active in occupations unlikely to be eliminated soon?

Are you ready for a transition to nothing but a digital currency? Right now you can pay with cash or with a card (digital). Imagine nothing but digital and then imagine your ability to spend is tied to your willingness to obey government orders. Imagine your car shutting off if you get placed on travel restrictions.

Are you ready for surveillance under your skin? Are you ready to be constantly monitored — not by some human looking at video screens — but by artificial intelligence that knows the flow of hormones in your body?

Are you ready for something worse than a sex change operation? Are you ready for a species change operation? Are you ready to become a cyborg, with your brain directly connected to an Internet of things?

I hope you're not ready for all of that. I hope you're ready to wage war on that. I hope you oppose that with every fiber of your being. The time to change that trend is now.

Are you ready to fight? Are you ready to demand regulation of artificial intelligence?

Georgia's Poor Tax

If you only watch the nightly news you'd think the Georgia Lottery was a blessing from heaven for education in Georgia. Of course, the news networks make money running lottery ads and hosting official pick announcements.

What does not get discussed, as the ad revenue rolls in, is the impact of lottery ticket purchases on families.

Georgia sells $5.6 billion worth of lottery tickets. That's an average of $726 a year per adult, but because many don't buy lottery tickets it's more like $1,470 per adult who gambles. Some gamble occasionally and some heavily. Heavy gamblers can spend $5,000 per year often when they have a low income.

The highly touted benefits of the lottery serve students capable of maintaining a B average in college. This is most likely to be students from upper and upper middle income families. The result is that low income families, hardest hit by gambling losses, are the least likely to receive the slightest benefit.

Studies show that for every $1 that gambling provides for education it generates $3 to $5 in state spending on negative consequences. These studies show that gambling increases addictions, bankruptcies, crime and sex trafficking. They found that families suffering high gambling losses are easier prey to sex traffickers.

The Georgia Lottery and any efforts to legalize additional forms of gambling are sold based on revenues to be generated with no accounting for financial consequences of gambling to families and to the state budget, but far more than just being an issue of money, it's an issue of misery. Do we really want to provide scholarships to college students at the price of misery for gambling addicts? The lottery is a poor tax. Hope scholarships are funded by giving false hopes to the poor.

Are you ready to reject digital currency and under the skin monitoring?

Are you ready to condemn the use of language like "useless class?" Are you ready to get involved in local politics and defend your community from a constant surveillance system? Are you ready to promote morality and thus reduce the demand for more surveillance?

Quite frankly, the coming technology is astounding. It can be used for good by good people, or it can be used for horror by horrible people. The time to set ground rules is now. We have just been through three years of horror because some scientists insisted on playing with gain-of-function research. Their objective was to make a virus that could spread more easily and do greater harm. Such people need to be in prison. Such people seeking artificial intelligence gain of function for deadly purposes need to be jailed as well.

If you think hurricane Ivan was bad consider Ft. Meyers today. Undoubtedly there are still signs of damage, but tremendous work of recovery has been done. What's coming is not coming for a few days. It's coming like iPhones and iPads. They don't go away. They change life as we know it.

What kind of future are you ready for?

What kind of future are you ready to fight for?

The Boston Bud Light Party

ESG tyranny must be stopped if America is to remain free

The Boston Tea Party has been taught for 250 years to be a profound event in American History. It's presented as a protest against the tyranny of the British Empire and a major spark in the American Revolution.

The current Bud Light boycott is in this same tradition. It's the rejection of ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) requirements imposed by tyrannical bankers on corporations serving Americans. It's a bold rejection of the advance of the sexual revolution.

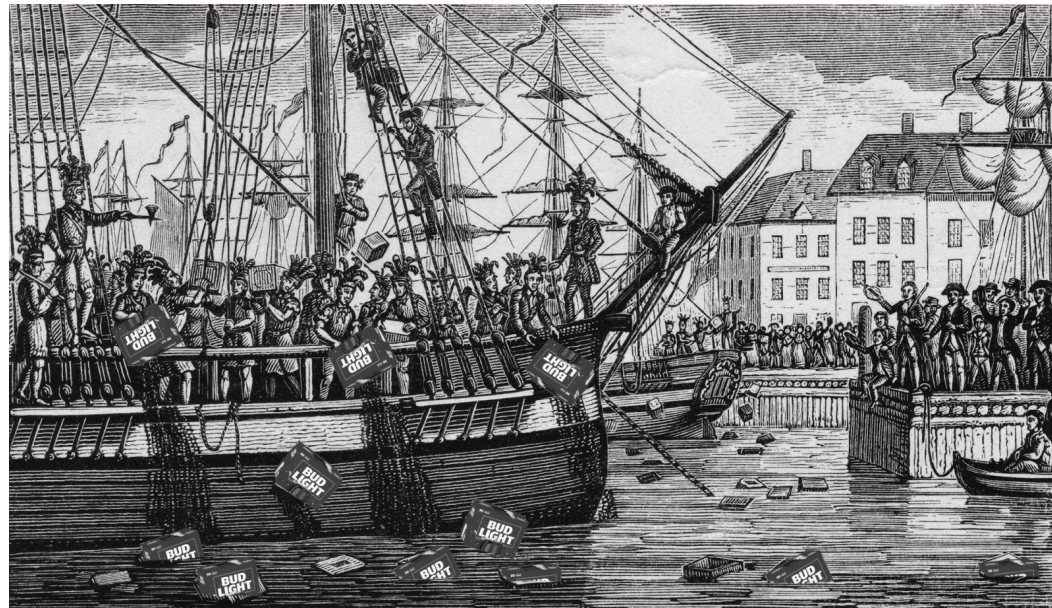

Corporations like Anheuser Bush and Disney are required to promote the advance of the sexual revolution or be denied the lending they rely on to conduct business. They wind up with liberal activist marketing directors and scriptwriters willing to offend the corporation's customers. Beer can no longer be sold just as beer, it has to promote transgender acceptance as well. Movies must present women as masculine superheroes rather than as wives and mothers.

The Bud Light boycott is not just about hick beer drinkers rejecting trans activism. It's about America rejecting corporate tyranny.

Joe Biden, who was put in office with massive corporate backing, recently vetoed a bill opposing ESG tyranny. He's like the patron saint of the sexual revolution. He regularly refers to typical Bud Light drinkers as "domestic terrorists." To him the Bud Light boycott looks like an insurrection against progress.

What's occurring right now is a great standoff. Anheuser Bush is being forced to choose between its customers and its ESG masters. So far the ESG masters are having their way. Anheuser Bush cannot fire its ESG approved marketing staff and apologize to its customers. It would experience the wrath of the FBI, CIA, FDA and IRS if it did. Other corporations are watching closely. One wonders if every American CEO is a real advocate of the sexual revolution or if they're just doing as directed out of fear.

Clearly, the ESG tyrants are content to see Anheuser Bush fully destroyed rather than back down. Patriotic ads featuring Clydesdale horses and country music will not convince Americans to bow to ESG.

History Repeats

Ironically the Boston Tea Party was a 1773 protest by a group known as the Sons of Liberty against the British East India Company selling a beverage — tea. The East India tea was to be sold with taxes imposed under the Townsend Act. This act was to fund governors and judges loyal to England, ensure compliance with English regulations and establish the right of England to levy taxes on the Colonies. Prior to the Townsend Act the Colonies behaved more like independent countries doing trade with England.

Here we are 250 years later and the world's bankers and power brokers want to impose ESG regulations on Americans. This is NOT just about getting Americans to love transgenderism.

ESG works toward imposing carbon taxes to fulfill the demands on the "E" (Environmental) tyranny aspect of ESG. These taxes are to be collected for a global government that wants the United States to become a docile region. They oppose nationalism and despise patriotism.

So, the Bud Light boycott is not just about a silly transgender ad created by a woke marketing manager. This is about the sovereignty of the United States. The "G" in ESG stands for global government.

Ukraine on ESG

The war in Ukraine is an action promoted by ESG bankers who see Russia as non-compliant. Russia demands its national sovereignty and even rejects the push toward a central bank digital currency. Poor Ukraine is paying the price in a war between globalists and Russia. Hundreds of thousands of Ukrainians are losing their lives as the globalists flood money and weapons into Ukraine to defend the globalist government "G" in ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance). The average American has no interest in sending billions of dollars (and secret troops) to keep a globalist puppet in power.

Most Bud Light boycotters don't even grasp the significance of their boycott. Without a shot being fired (except at beer cans) they have the world watching to see if ESG can be defeated. Thank God Bud Light boycotters can resist ESG without paying the price being paid by Ukrainians. The truth is that if American beer drinkers can crush ESG they can help give the entire world a new chance at freedom.

The ESG bankers are prepared to accept nuclear war before they accept being slowed down in their quest for global tyranny. They're getting desperate. They see resistance rising. They will be defeated, but the war is not over. There are more battles ahead. The globalist still have many weapons to use.

One Nation Under ESG

Our nation's motto is "One Nation Under God." We will always be under God. Every nation is under God right now. The issue is, "Do we behave that way? Do we recognize God's authority and wisdom?"

We have increasingly become a nation under ESG. Corporations are already experiencing what globalists wish to impose on individual Americans. ESG is a social credit score. A high score increases your ability to borrow money and avoid harassment. It makes you a friend of mainstream media. A low ESG score is considered shameful. To raise your ESG score you must hire sexual revolution promoters and hard core climate change fear mongers. You must also avoid patriotism and nationalism.

In reality, ESG is already impacting individuals. Doctors lose their license if they mention any dangers of medications and vaccinations. Mentions of election fraud can get you banned from social media. Athletes fear retaliation if they oppose men competing in women's sports. Many choose to remain silent.

Advocates of being transgender are given corporate sponsorship to promote their agenda in order to raise a corporation's ESG score. This is the plan for your bank account. Your ability to borrow money or even make purchases, or hold a job, are to be tied to your personal ESG score. Boycotting Bud Light would lower your score.

The Bud Light boycott really is like the Boston Tea Party. It sends the message we don't want your tyranny. Thankfully we're not so far under ESG that opposition leads to a firing squad. Thanks in part to the patriotic boycotters I don't think we'll get there.

I look for the day when Budweiser can be freed from ESG and be allowed to serve customers without promoting the sexual revolution. I'd love to see Disney freed from ESG as well. Imagine some movies with heroic families. The world is hungry for peace and freedom. Let us give thanks to all those boycotting Bud Light — and shame on you if you think some campaign contributions are more important than opposing ESG tyranny.

The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom Proverbs 9:10

The Schools We Need

The 21st Century is still in its first quarter and the pace of change is blinding. The dangers are like volcanos and the opportunities are like a sky full of stars. We all know the world will be drastically different by 2030 — so what kind of schools do we need?

WISDOM

The absolute core of a good education is not information. It is wisdom. It is knowing what best to do with everything coming at us. It's knowing good from evil. It's having the good character that Martin Luther King Jr. said should be the measure of children.

Without wisdom artificial intelligence, nano tech and more will be used to create a dystopian society like like Hunger Games movies. Without wisdom children will be transformed into cyborgs acting like robots to be controlled by global leaders. We are not in the 20th Century any more and 20th Century schools will not protect mankind from destruction.

Teaching that we evolved from goo by chance opens the mind to reject wisdom and live by opinion. Teaching that we are created by God and live in ongoing battle between good and evil is our only hope. We must sell good as good or we will experience the horrors of evil.

TRUTH

We must return to a relentless pursuit of truth in science and in subjects like history. As we engage in a quest for what's good we must not teach children a pack of lies. We are not here by chance. We are masterfully designed to live in health as we understand what is healthy. Health is both mental and physical and there is such a thing as healthy and unhealthy behavior.

Society benefits from reserving sex for marriage and having healthy families provide for the young and old. The cost of health care can be DRASTICALLY reduced by healthy lifestyles. Children need to learn what is optimum, not what is fashionable.

HEALTH

Children need to learn biology as it relates to their health and happiness. They need to learn a healthy lifestyle is preferable to medications that manipulate symptoms. They need to know why and how they can avoid becoming addicts to drugs, alcohol, gambling and pornography. They need to learn the health benefits of unselfishness. Mental health is PROFOUNDLY impacted by philosophy — how you understand life. A healthy understanding of life encourages good behavior and good health,

CREATIVITY

God made mankind uniquely creative. Dogs do not write music and manufacture cars. Children need to see themselves as designed to be creative. They need to see opportunity. Some may love art, some sports, some gardening or business, but children need to realize that are not on the planet earth just to eat, have sex and die. Children need to learn to explore their capabilities and interests in the pursuit of good (not evil).

PASSION

Learning needs to be a passion. Schools should be hives of passion where students see themselves as explorers looking for their calling in life. Children do often think first about becoming a great athlete or movie star. But beyond those, schools should be like a cafeteria of opportunity. Math, music, science and literature all offer opportunities. The child poet should have the opportunity to explore poetry without a classroom full of students being forced to as well.

PURPOSE

We are created by God with a purpose. Satan and his demons stand in opposition.

They want to redirect or to crush God-given desires. We are here to leave the world a better place when we go. A good school would help us find and pursue our purpose. Great artists study art. They learn from maters. They practice, practice, practice and explore. The same is true for basketball players or businessmen. It's not necessary to push kindergarteners into a career choice, but schools should be well aware of students strengths and interests. They should encourage the use of abilities for good purposes.

CHARACTER

No academic achievement is of any lasting value without good character. It is good character that leads a doctor to save lives rather than take lives. It is good character that leads a businessman to offer good products at a good price with honesty. It is good character that enables a politician to serve his constituents above major campaign contributors. Prisons are filled with inmates who went to school and failed to acquire good character.

JOY

A good school is one that graduates students who love to keep learning. They'd rather spend time learning more than waste time with pointless games and silly entertainment. A good school inspires growers, not couch potatoes. This is VERY important in the 21st Century because many jobs are going to vanish. Many who lose jobs will be depressed and discouraged. Those who do well will be those who enjoy constantly learning more.

PEACE

Every parent wants their children in peaceful schools where students respect each other and their teachers. They oppose vulgarity and violence. It's not that parents want their children in prison compounds with guards ready to squelch any peep of misbehavior. They want classrooms full of children with good character who would make a policeman's job very boring. This will never come by teaching children they are highly evolved animals in a survival of the fittest world. It is more likely in a school where children learn God created them to do their part to help make the world a better place — even a world with lots of artificial intelligence.

VIRTUE: The Foundation of Georgia Education

Abraham Baldwin was one of the two Georgians who signed the United States Constitution September 17, 1787. He was the author of the charter of the University of Georgia approved by the Georgia General Assembly two years earlier in January 1785. In the charter he explained the reason Georgia should establish a system of higher education. He wrote:

“As it is the distinguishing happiness of free governments that civil Order should be the Result of choice and not necessity, and the common wishes of the people become the laws of the land, their public prosperity and even existence very much depends upon suitably forming the minds and morals of their citizens. When the minds of people in general are viciously disposed and unprincipled and their conduct disorderly, a free government will be attended with greater confusions and with evils more horrid than the wild, uncultivated state of nature. It can only be happy where the public principles and opinions are properly directed and their manners regulated. This is an influence beyond the stretch of laws and punishments and can be claimed only by religion and education. It should therefore be among the first objects of those who wish well to the national prosperity to encourage and support the principles of religion and morality, and early to place the youth under the forming hand of society that by instruction they may be moulded to the love of virtue and good order.”

In this same period other of America’s founding fathers made similar remarks.

Benjamin Franklin said: “Only a virtuous people are capable of freedom. As nations become corrupt and vicious, they have more need of masters.”

Getting straight to the point he said: “Man will ultimately be governed by God or by tyrants.” Sadly, he saw what was likely to come when he said, “This [the U.S. Constitution] is likely to be administered for a course of years and then end in despotism... when the people shall become so corrupted as to need despotic government, being incapable of any other.”

The founders saw teaching virtue as key to America’s survival. James Madison said: “We have staked the whole future of our new nation, not upon the power of government; far from it. We have staked the future of all our political constitutions upon the capacity of each of ourselves to govern ourselves according to the moral principles of the Ten Commandments.”

George Washington said: “One’s god dictates the kind of law one implements and also controls the application and development of that law over time. Given enough time, all non-Christian systems of law self-destruct in a fit of tyranny.”

The foundation of Georgia education was the promotion of virtue as defined by the wisdom of God – not man. Warning after warning was given that to abandon God’s wisdom is to invite tyranny and evil.

The foundation of Georgia education is being replaced. Instruction in virtue has been replaced with instruction in diversity. A current statement of purpose at the University of Georgia is:

“A diverse community is essential to the growth and success of our community. We are continuously developing initiatives to encourage an inclusive culture.”

These include a Pride Center promoting sexual diversity and the promotion of Critical Race Theory which focuses on condemnation of whites as supremacists and even ventures into issues like micro aggressions.

This transition from promoting virtue to promoting diversity filters down from the colleges of education to primary education. Virtue itself gets redefined from promoting the wisdom of God to promoting concepts in opposition to God’s design for a civil society. Blame for human suffering is shifted from a lack of personal virtues to systemic racism and sexual discrimination. The problems in Georgia’s worst schools are attributed to former slave owners and their decedents rather than destructive decisions made parents and children. Rather than seeing a vulgarity and promiscuousness as harmful the problem becomes those who still consider a vulgar and promiscuous culture to be evil. These become the people that must be reeducated. These are the people whose children must be indoctrinated to reject the beliefs of their parents.

The result — predicted by our nation’s founders — is a steady march toward tyranny. The government grows larger, freedom of speech is endangered, the free press is radicalized, and global tyrants salivate about the demise of the American experiment.

If we will not stand for virtuous education the American dream will end. We will live in a world where you can neither buy, sell, or work unless your very thoughts align with the beliefs of a godless global elite.

If you still appreciate the Foundation of Georgia Education spelled out by Abraham Baldwin in the original University of Georgia charter, you need to stand up and defend them.

Is It Justice?

Jonh F. Kennedy

On November 22, 1963 President John F. Kennedy was assassinated by the C.I.A. This glaring fact is now being openly confessed by Democrat presidential candidate, Robert Kennedy Jr. (JFK's nephew).

President Donald Trump promised to release the details of the assassination in accordance with 1992 legislation requiring information release in 25 years. At the last moment Trump agreed to permit key documents to remain secret for a few more months. They remain secret today — years later. It appears the reason for the delay is to spare the wrath of the American people against the C.I.A. Who knows if it also included a threat from the C.I.A. to do unto Trump as they did unto Kennedy.

Is it justice to leave the history books of elementary school children with the false impressions that John Kennedy was killed by a lone crazed gunman named Lee Harvey Oswald?

Martin Luther King Jr.

On April 4, 1968 Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated by the FBI, the C.I.A., the U.S. Army, the Memphis Police Department according to a successful law suit brought by the King family in 1999.

Evidence in the trial indicated the F.B.I. tried and failed to convince King to commit suicide to avoid exposure of information the agency had gathered on him.

Martin Luther King Jr. had begun to add opposition to the Vietnam war to his Civil Rights activity. President Lyndon Johnson was displeased and the American Military Industrial Complex was concerned that a national hero of the Civil Rights Movement could generate broader public opposition to the war.

Again, it is not justice, to include in school history books the story of James Earl Jones as a crazed racist gunman.

Demand Liberty and Justice for All

Hillary Clinton, Barack Obama and Joe Biden were all involved in a plot to smear Donald Trump with false allegations of colluding with the Russians. Donald Trump helped stop the release of information on the assassination of John Kennedy.

Neither Ron DeSantis nor Robert Kennedy Jr. can tame the F.B.I., C.I.A., and Department of justice without the help of the American people. Donald Trump ran for office promising to “drain the swamp” and appointed to office swap creatures like William Barr and Christopher Wray.

Do NOT expect anyone to clean up the Justice Department without public outrage.

Every congressman and senator elected needs to be put into office to fight like a Navy Seal against the Justice Department, the C.I.A. and the F.B.I.

Hearings are NOT ENOUGH. Agency heads come and say they cannot disclose their crimes for “national security reasons.” It’s a farce. It’s for agency security reasons.

We need candidates willing to defund the agencies that refuse to cooperate.

Justice is not Republicans getting an upper hand on Democrats or Democrats getting an upper hand on Republicans. It’s about actual justice. It’s about truth. It’s about encouraging good behavior by punishing bad behavior — including election fraud.

No government agency should be permitted to assassinate a president or community leader because they oppose the goals of the agency.

No agency should be allowed to manipulate elections for their benefit.

No agency should be permitted to cover up their crimes for decades.

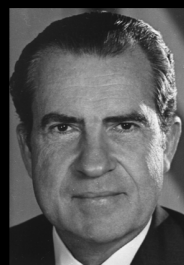

Every agency in the government should exist for the benefit of the people of the United States of America, not as a tool to advance agendas of politicians or those wishing to manipulate politicians.

Children in school studying history need to be taught that agencies of the United States government committed horrible crimes and must constantly be overseen by elected officials out to make sure such crimes are NEVER committed again.

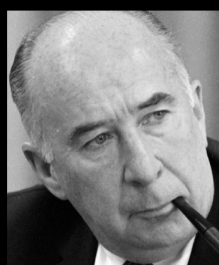

Those who have been manipulating the agencies have tremendous reason to fear the agencies actually serving the people because these agencies were behind Jeffrey Epstein and his child trafficking operations. They have all the blackmail material on many political and business leaders. Should these agencies actually serve the people justice would require MANY arrests.

If you go to journalism school professors speak with reverence about the golden days of journalism when intrepid reporters like Bob Woodward tied Richard Nixon to a break-in at the Watergate office of the Democrat National Committee. Professors practically glow explaining that this journalistic bravery led to the arrest and conviction of numerous high officials and to the resignation of President Nixon.

This is presented in school history books as a triumph of American justice even over the politically powerful.

Only recently have we learned that Nixon, who was upset with the C.I.A. told then C.I.A. Director Richard Helms that he knew who really killed John Kennedy.

Bob Woodward it turns out was a recent hire whose previous experience was with intelligence agencies and the Pentagon. His secret source dripping out incriminating evidence and known as “deep throat” was later revealed to be the Deputy Director of the F.B.I., Mark Felt. Felt headed a program called Counter Intelligence Program (Cointelpro) that engaged in covert and illegal FBI actively aimed at surveilling, infiltrating, discrediting, and disrupting domestic American political organizations. Martin Luther King Jr. was one of their targets.

The result was a message sent to all future presidents, “You let us do as we wish or we will either kill you or destroy you.”

This bring us to 2016 and the plan to crown Hillary Clinton as puppet of the deep state. Donald Trump was seen as a hand grenade thrown into massive pack of Republican Presidential hopefuls. The media gave him massive coverage while Hillary and company laughed and what he was doing to candidates she considered an actual threat, but the better he did the more concerned Hillary and her handlers became.

Thus began Russiagate. A dossier full of ridiculous accusations was used to get the F.B.I. permission to spy on the Trump Campaign looking for collusion with Russia. They found nothing.

Meanwhile, Seth Rich, a Bernie Sanders supporter working for the Democratic National Committee, who saw crimes committed against his candidate, gave Wiki-leaks a trove of incriminating Clinton emails. There was a rush to blame the release on Russian hacking done to help Trump — even as Seth Rich was murdered.

When election day came, and Hillary lost, the assault on Trump went into high gear. Meetings in the White House included Barack Obama, Joe Biden and agency representatives. The war was on.

With Mike Pence’s help, General Michael Flynn was forced to resign his coming post as National Security Advisor.

The travesty of justice to follow was finally spelled out in John Durham’s report, but none of the people whose crimes are spelled out in detail were arrested, prosecuted or convicted.

Why?

When you have agencies acting on their own authority for so long — with the power to murder opposition, you cannot elect a savior who can just walk in and have every criminal arrested and jailed.

It’s like walking into a Mafia meeting and telling everyone they’re arrested when the Mafia runs the police and the courts.

Donald Trump was elected to drain the swamp but could not even keep his promise to release all information on John Kennedy’s murder.

Donald Trump touted the benefits of Hydroxychloroquine and was quickly convinced to kiss the feet of Anthony Fauci for two years.

To this day Donald Trump is not allowed claim Operation Warp Speed was a disaster he was forced claim was wonderful.

Neither Ron DeSantis, Vivek Ramaswamy, or Robert Kennedy Jr. can march into Washington D.C. and take on the F.B.I. or the C.I.A, without a million supporters and the F.B.I and C.I.A. managed to present Donald Trump as an insurrectionist when he did bring a crowd demanding election integrity.

Look at the reaction to Tucker Carlson’s

January 6 video exposure. In just minutes he destroyed the narrative that Trump had gathered a massive group of right-wing terrorists to take over the government. Carlson lost his job and Fox willing accepted a massive drop in viewership.

The good news is that America is waking up. The dirty secrets of the past are being revealed and there is a growing demand for the truth about all of Jeffrey Epstein’s blackmail victims.

Americans want to be able to elect people who can get all government agencies working for the people and not against them.

Whether you’re a Democrat, Republican or Independent you need to be allowed to elect leaders who do not have to support wars and drugs and propaganda in order to please powerful forces behind the scenes.

Republican President Dwight Eisenhower left office warning of the danger of the military industrial complex and was followed by Democrat John Kennedy warning of the same.

If you want “liberty and justice for all” you will need to demand it from current officials and every candidate for every office great and small.

Our national motto is, “In God We Trust.” We should add, “In government we don’t.”

Who Actually Wants Nuclear War?

Adolf Hitler in the last days of World War II would have loved to fire a nuclear missile at London. He was angry that his plans for world conquest lay in ruins. The progress he was so proud of taking control of Europe had all been taken away. He considered his own army unworthy of himself. He did use the world's most advanced missiles to attack London.

Imagine if he had nuclear weapons.

We're in a similar situation today. The world is rising up against a globalist cabal that hoped to eliminate national borders and rule the planet like the European Union dominates Europe. The European Union — a testing ground of this global cabal — is itself in trouble.

Imagine thinking things are going well on the way to a New World Order and suddenly things start to fall apart. Britain wants out of the Union, various Union members have voters angry at European Union dictates, people of the United States don't want to surrender sovereignty to the World Health Organization and the Paris Climate Accords. Donald Trump becomes president and rejects the agreements.

A great pandemic intended to unite the world behind global mandates became a bust. Instead of leading to subservience it led to an uprising. All attempts to censor media failed. Major media outlets (under globalist control) lost viewership and alternative media grew like a swarm of locusts.

The war in Ukraine became something like the final defense of Hitler's bunker. Efforts to present it as the ultimate patriotic defense of freedom devolved into a view that it's actually a great defense of astounding corruption. Hundreds of thousands of lives and billions of dollars have been thrown at a nasty hopeless cause. NATO — that should have disbanded with the collapse of the Soviet Union — now looks like a globalist military force out to defend the outcome of a CIA coup. Several NATO members themselves now question the wisdom of the war and don't want it to become nuclear.

The Biden administration makes, and then breaks, promise after promise not to expand what the United States provides Ukraine — even as his involvement in Ukraine corruption becomes more and more clear.

Do you see the problem?

Virtually the entire world wants the threat of nuclear war to go away, but the billionaires who dreamed of financial and political world conquest see nuclear weapons as one of only a few options left to regain momentum. Massive financial collapse, a more deadly pandemic and what would appear to be an alien invasion are on the table.

With each nasty step they take the world gets hungrier for another Nuremberg trial. If you're facing prison and execution and you're used to private jets, palatial estates and caviar what would you do?

What cities would you be willing to see nuked in order to call for emergency measures that include rounding up your political opposition? Will the world stop the madness before London and New York go up in mushroom clouds? Will we send F-16s and tactical nuclear weapons? Will NATO supply Ukraine with missiles to reach Moscow?

How much patience does the world expect Vladimir Putin to show when he has the world's largest nuclear weapon arsenal? Who really wants Putin to quit showing restraint and reduce Kiev to a smoldering heap?

Now is the time for Ukraine to become a neutral, unarmed nation with free trade agreements East and West. Now is the time to recognize that Ukraine has been part of Russia for 200 of the last 250 years. Let the Russian speaking regions be part of Russia and let all regions of Ukraine vote as they please. Disband NATO and the United Nations. Let the nations of the world be the nations of the world and determine who they want to permit to immigrate. Quit creating wars and famines that generate refugees. Let the world trade in goods not weapons.

Let us pray that the coming Nuremberg trials do not have to include prosecution of those who started a 21st Century nuclear war.

WHY?

I never planned to be here
It's not my will to be
There's not a person that I hate
Oh, why did they choose me?

I wish I could play football or dance on stage again
my beagle Zasha's waiting like a loyal friend

Oh, mother please stop crying
I hope to make it home
I hope that they can stop this war when truth is finally known

No one can be the winner in the horror that I see
The soldiers I am hunting
Are also hunting me

I was not born to kill them
They weren't born to kill me
We fight because the CIA
Would not let Ukraine be

God let us just be neutral
Let the weapons all go home
Quit funding even greater bombs
Enough hate has been shown

The world is not wanting
The West to fight the East
Even most Americans
Are hungering for peace

When I was just in diapers
My parents had big dreams
That I would grow to manhood
To do amazing things

Some friends are now in graveyards their parents hopes are gone
With funding from Americans the war just rolls on

Oh listen, I hear rockets They're getting very near
They've spotted our position
I'd best get out of .....

Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God.
